

Adoption East Midlands, Regional Adoption Agency (RAA) Privacy Notice for Children

19-02-2024

Who are we?

The adoption services for Derby City Council, Derbyshire County Council, Nottingham City Council and Nottinghamshire County Council have joined together to form a Regional Adoption Agency (RAA). This Regional Adoption Agency is part of a larger partnership for adoption services across the East Midlands called Adoption East Midlands.

This privacy notice explains how the Adoption East Midlands RAA might use your personal data for different reasons, including being able to provide the best adoption service possible. This might include searching for people who want to adopt, matching them with children who are looking for families to look after them, and providing help and support.

There are special laws, or rules, which Adoption East Midlands RAA has to follow when we use your personal information. These laws include the General Data Protection Regulations (the GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Nottinghamshire County Council (NCC) collects, holds and looks after adoption information for Adoption East Midlands (RAA). This role is referred to as the Lead Authority. Because NCC collects adoption information about people it is also referred to as a Data Controller under the Data Protection Act 2018.

If you would like to find out more information about how NCC or Adoption East Midlands (RAA) uses your information you should contact the Data Protection Officer by telephone (0115 8043800) or writing to:

Data Protection Officer Nottinghamshire County Council County Hall
West Bridgford Nottingham
NG2 7QP

or email: DPO@nottscc.gov.uk

What information do we keep about you and why?

Without information about you and others we would not be able to provide the service. We use your data to make sure that you are adopted by the family we think is the best fit for you. To help us do this we collect different information about you, such as your name, date of birth, national insurance number and address, so we make sure we don't mix you up with anyone else. The Data Protection Act calls this type of information personal data.

We also collect information about your gender, ethnicity, religious beliefs and disabilities, so we can make sure we are introducing you to the best family possible. Another type of data we will need to use is medical information, such as your Doctors' name, NHS number, physical and mental health details and whether your health and dental appointments are up to date. This is to make sure we know you are well and we are looking after your health and wellbeing. These types of information are considered very sensitive and we need to ensure we take particular care when collecting and using them. The Data Protection Act calls them special categories of personal data.

We also need to keep track of important dates and numbers, such as information about times we've looked after you before, and any court dates and decisions made about your wellbeing. If you've ever been in trouble with the Police we will need to know about that too.

What will happen if you do not provide or we cannot obtain the information needed?

- We could not provide the adoption services.

Following the law

There are laws, or rules, that we have to follow when collecting or using your information. We follow all of these rules and will only use your data to help find the right adoptive family for you.

Who may we share your data with?

To ensure that the RAA provides you with an efficient and effective service we will sometimes need to share your information with other people and organisations that support the delivery of the adoption service.

- For example, personnel from other local authorities and adoption agencies that help organize adoptions.
- We also need to carry out checks on those who wish to adopt, such as criminal convictions, criminal offences or related security measures, to ensure they are suitable to look after children. For example, carrying out Disclosure and Barring Service checks. We are required to do this to comply with The Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005 section 23.\(1\)\(a\)

- We are also required to provide details to UK Government departments, as part of the adoption process.
- Sometimes we need to share information we have about you with various people or authorities, who will want to know that we are doing everything correctly and quickly, and that we are looking after you as well as possible. They may need to look at your personal information to check that we have done everything properly.
- We may also share your information with legal professionals. These are the people who make sure we follow all the adoption laws, or rules.

Below is a list of all the people and organisations we may share your information with.
